

Table 2 Speakers and titles of papers, January 2001 to January 2006

January 2001	Middlesex	Ken Coutts	The impact of imports on UK manufacturing prices
		Ian Steedman	Oxbridge economists and philosophers on Marx's theory of value 1920-1925
		Robert Dunn	Industrial production and primary commodity prices: a factor analysis approach
		Martin Myant	Banks the 'motor' of the Czech transformation
		Jesper Jespersen	Heterodox macroeconomics – a methodological approach: it all began in 1934
May 2001	Leeds Metropolitan	Nick Karagiannis	Alternative development policy for the Caribbean: the challenge of the developmental state approach
		Gwilym Price	Different perspectives on housing issues
		Johannes Stephen	Sources of productivity growth in selected accession candidates and determinants of their productivity gaps relative to the EU
		Brendan Sheehan	Joan Robinson's theories of unstable growth
		Herbert Schui	The rate of interest under the regime of credit money: a political, non-market instrument of resource allocation and a rent for money owners
November 2001	Leeds	Paul Dalziel	The triumph of Keynes: what now for monetary policy research?
		Basil Moore	Saving and investment (?)
		Victoria Chick & Sheila Dow	The operation of monetary policy in an endogenous money liquidity preference framework
		Philip Arestis & Malcolm Sawyer	The Bank of England macroeconomic model: its nature and implications
		Peter Howells & Iris Biefang-Frisancho	Central banks and market interest rates
		Giuseppe Fontana & Alfonso Palacio Vera	Monetary policy rules: what are we learning?

Table 2 (continued)

March 2002	Leeds Metropolitan	Ian Steedman	Hicksian technical progress and relative price change: can monopoly and/or taxation lower relative price?
		John Poxon	Poverty and education: a socioeconomic analysis
		Jan Toporowski	Monetary policy in an era of capital market inflation: the link with Keynes
		Karl Betz	Endogenous money, liquidity preference and the theory of interest
		Jesper Jespersen	Macroeconomic methodology from a Post Keynesian perspective
November 2003	University of the West of England	Paul Ormerod	Evolution of market structure and competition
		Paul Downward	On leisure demand: a Post Keynesian critique of neoclassical theory'
		Alberto Cruz	The business cycle in a financially deregulated context: theory and evidence
		Richard Weston	Housing construction
		Mark Hayes	Liquidity and 'liquidity'
May 2004	Cambridge	Mark Roberts & John McCombie	Effective demand constrained growth in a two-sector Kaldorian model
		Mark Hayes	The principle of effective demand as the general equilibrium of a monetary production economy
		Ahmad Seyf	Globalisation: What next?
		Sheila Dow & Dipak Ghosh	Liquidity preference - a fuzzy concept?
		Kobil Ruziev	Role of money in Uzbek economy: transition from a barter economy into a monetary one?
		Paul Downward & Andrew Mearman	Triangulation in economic research: reorienting economics into social science

Table 2 (continued)

September 2004	Leeds	Victoria Chick	An equilibrium of action
		John & Wendy Cornwall	The role of power and institutions in macroeconomic theory
		Paul Davidson	The future of the international money payment systems
		Geoff Harcourt	What would Marx and Keynes have made of the happenings of the past 30 years and more?
		Sheila Dow, Giuseppe Fontana, Claudio Sardoni, Jesper Jespersen & Malcolm Sawyer	The future of Post Keynesian economics
November 2004	Greenwich	Eckhard Hein & Achim Truger	Whatever happened to Germany? Is the decline of the former European key currency country caused by structural sclerosis or macroeconomic mismanagement?
		Andrew Watt	Comparing Europe's employment-policy benchmark countries: what do Denmark and the Netherlands tell us about the causes of unemployment and successful employment strategies?
		John Grieve Smith	Unemployment and fiscal policy in the EU
		Michelle Baddeley, Philip Arestis & Malcolm Sawyer	Does the capital stock affect unemployment?
		Carsten Ochsén	Effects of macroeconomic and institutional variables on unemployment
		Santonu Basu & Sushanta Mallick	Does technological change induce unemployment?

Table 2 (continued)

February 2005	Cambridge	Philip Arestis & Howard Stein	An institutional perspective to finance and development as an alternative to financial liberalization
		Ha-Joon Chang	Financial institutions in macroeconomic management
		Ajit Singh	Shareholder wealth maximisation, stock market and new technology: should the US corporate model be the universal standard?
		Michelle Baddeley	The impacts of armed conflict on the evolution of financial institutions in developing economies
		Shailaja Fennel	Institutional reform and financial transition in Russia: an evolutionary perspective
May 2005	SOAS	Wynne Godley	Thinking strategically about the US economy
		Marc Lavoie	Banks and liquidity preference in a post-Keynesian stock-flow consistent model
		Jesper Jespersen	Macroeconomics: some methodological issues
		Elisabetta de Antoni	Hyman Minsky's theory of financial instability: are we really sure that Keynes would have agreed?
		Alfonso Palacio-Vera	On Liquidity Traps: a framework for the analysis of macroeconomic policy in the "age" of central banks
		John McCombie & Mark Roberts	A tale of four growth paradigms: some preliminary results
November 2005	Middlesex	Shujie Yao, Z. Zhang & L. Hanmer	Growing inequality and poverty in China
		Claudio Sardoni	Why central banks (and money) rule the roost
		Mark Hayes	Keynes's given degree of competition

Table 2 (continued)

January 2006	Oxford Brookes	Jonathan Perraton	Paradise Lost? The fate of the Scandinavian economies in the 21st century
		Jesper Jespersen	The Danish case: flexicurity and demand management
		Eckhard Hein & Achim Truger	Germany's stagnation in the European context
		Pascal Petit	Thirty years of massive unemployment: its impact on the wage labour nexus
		Elisabetta de Antoni	Italy and the EMU: a controversial issue
		Philip Arestis & Malcolm Sawyer	Economic Policy in the UK under New Labour: the end of boom and bust?
		Eleni Paliginis	The impact of EMU on Greece and Ireland
		Jesus Ferreiro	Can miracles come to an end? Limitations of the current model of growth in Spain
		Isabel Salavisa	The end of catching up in Portugal: causes and consequences

Source: email records held by the author