

Lecture title: Development: Colonial Legacies. Decolonising Futures?

Lecture outline: This lecture aims to introduce students to the importance of understanding colonial histories and legacies, and 'decolonising' when studying 'development'. First, the lecture summarises the global-historical context for understanding the relevance of colonial histories and legacies. Second, it presents approaches which help with understanding colonial histories and legacies when studying topics in 'development'. Third, the lecture considers 'decolonising' and connects it to 'development' studies.
